

Exceptional Dental Courses

Presents

Functional Health and Genomics for the Oral Systemic Practitioner

This course series is designed to help those who see clients with;

Periodontal Issues

Sleep and Breathing Disorders

TMD and Pain Patients

Dental Orthopedics and Orthodontics

Amalgam Revisions and Detoxification

Ozone Therapy

And much more.....

You will learn to apply the latest discoveries in Nutritional Support and Genomics, and answer these questions needed to provide a truly “Personalized” Health Care approach.

- What is “NutriGenomics” and how does this help my patients?
 - How can I address Pain and Inflammation with Nutrition?
 - How can I support the Immune System?
 - How can I Support Connective Tissue repair?
 - How can I create a Healthy Gut and Digestive System?
- How can I support my Ozone therapy and reduce Oxidative Stress?
 - How do I support Liver Function and Detoxification?
- How do Adrenal and Hormonal issues relate to Oral Systemic Health?
 - How do I support the Thyroid system?
- What can be done to Improve Mitochondrial Function and ATP Production?
 - How does this relate to Cardiovascular Health?
 - What Functional Lab Tests and Genomics Reports do I need?
 - How do I interpret and apply these test results?
- When, where and how can I apply this exciting new information?

Are you ready to take your Oral Systemic Practice to the next level??

Join us for Part 1 – “An Introduction to Functional Health and Genomics”

in Las Vegas ~ Feb 2-3, 2018

for more information, visit ExceptionalDentalCourses.com